

■ Several early publications of the Church of God, Eugene, Oregon. Though at first mimeographed, publications were later printed in the same advertising format that Herbert Armstrong used in his ads in the years before his conversion.

■ The Bulletin of the Church of God in Oregon provides a history of the early development of Herbert W. Armstrong's duties, including his appointment in 1933.